3. General data processing on social media platforms3.1 Data processing for market research and advertising

On the company side, personal data are usually processed for market research and advertising purposes. For this purpose, a cookie is set in your browser, which enables the respective provider to recognize you when you visit a website. The collected data can be used to create user profiles. Based on these, advertisements are placed within and outside of the platform that presumably correspond to your interests. Furthermore, data can also be stored in user profiles independently of the devices you use. This is regularly the case if you are a member of the respective platforms and are logged in to them.

3.2 Data processing when contacting us

We ourselves collect personal data when you contact us, for example via a contact form or through a messenger service such as Facebook Messenger. Which data are collected depends on your details and the contact data you provide or release. These will be stored by us for the purpose of processing your inquiry and in the event of follow-up questions. Under no circumstances will this data be passed on to third parties without your consent. The legal basis for processing the data is our legitimate interest in responding to your inquiry pursuant to Art. 6 (1) lit. f GDPR and, if applicable, Art. 6 (1) lit. b GDPR if your inquiry is aimed at the conclusion of a contract. Your data will be deleted after your inquiry has been processed, provided that there are no statutory retention periods. We assume a final processing if it can be inferred from the circumstances that the relevant facts have been conclusively clarified.

3.3 Data processing for contract execution

If your contact via a social network or other platform is aimed at the conclusion of a contract for the delivery of goods or the provision of services with us, we process your data in order to be able to fulfill the contract, carry out pre- contractual measures or provide the desired services. The legal basis for the processing of your data in this case is Art. 6 (1) lit. b GDPR. Your data will be deleted when they are no longer required for the execution of the contract or if it is certain that the pre- contractual measures will not lead to the conclusion of a contract corresponding to the purpose of establishing contact. Please note, however, that even after conclusion of the contract it may be necessary to store personal data of our contractual partners in order to comply with legal or contractual obligations.

3.4 Data processing based on consent

If you are asked by the respective platform providers to consent to the processing of your data for a specific purpose, the legal basis for the processing is Art. 6 (1) lit. a and Art. 7 GDPR. A granted consent can be revoked at any time with effect for the future.

IV. Data transfer and recipients

Please note that when using social media platforms, data processing may take place outside the EU and the European Economic Area, so that the European level of data protection cannot be guaranteed.

We have no influence on the processing and handling of your personal data by the respective providers. We also do not have any information on this. For further information, please check the Privacy Policy of the respective provider:

Statutory retention periods remain unaffected. We have no influence on the storage period of your data which are stored by the providers of social media for their own purposes. For further details, contact them directly.
